

Tennessee Alliance of Recovery Residences

Code of Ethics

TN-ARR affiliates will commit to conducting their business honestly and ethically wherever we operate in the State.

We strive to constantly improve the quality of our services and operations and create a reputation of honesty, fairness, respect, integrity, responsibility, trust, and sound business judgement.

Dedicated to the belief in the dignity and worth of all human beings. It cannot be emphasized enough that illegal or unethical conduct on the part of affiliates, tarnishes the image of TN-ARR.

TN-ARR affiliates do not compromise their principles for short-term advantage. The ethical performance of this organization is the sum of the ethics of the men and women who serve here.

All are expected to adhere to high standards of professional and personal integrity.

Personal Statement

If a Recovery Residence owner or manager is found to have violated any of the above code of ethics of the Tennessee Alliance of Recovery Residences after receiving appropriate notice and an opportunity to be heard, such violation may subject restrictions of the individual for review and penalties. These penalties may include, but are not limited to, public reprimand, suspension, or revocation of membership. This action does not curtail any of the other rights and remedies of the parties to redress, nor shall a determination of a violation rise to the level of proof as if the matter were heard in a court of competent jurisdiction.
